PROVERBS CHAPTER 4
Verses 1-11

Hear, ye children, the instruction of a father, and attend to know understanding.

2 For I give you good doctrine, forsake ye not my law.

3 For I was my father's son, tender and only beloved in the sight of my mother.

4 He taught me also, and said unto me, let thine heart retain my words: keep my commandments, and live.

5 Get wisdom, get understanding: forget it not; neither decline from the words of my mouth.

6 Forsake her not, and she shall preserve thee: love her, and she shall keep thee.

7 Wisdom is the principal thing: therefore get wisdom: and with all thy getting get understanding.

8 Exalt her, and she shall promote thee: She shall bring thee to honor, when thou dost embrace her.

9 She shall give to thine head an ornament of grace: a crown of glory shall she deliver to thee.

10 Hear, O my son, and receive my sayings; and the years of thy life shall be many.

11 I have taught thee in the way of wisdom; I have led thee in right paths.

DEDICATION: DR. C. A. KIRKENDOLL

No other President of a College in the C. M. E. Church has remained at the helm of an institution for as long a period and with so much success. None other has won so many friends to such a significant cause. None other found the need to be true to such a unique beginning. Chester A. Kirkendoll, able administrator in the field of higher education, outstanding leader in the area of religious education, minister, world traveler, scholar and teacher, has served with distinction as President of Lane College for the past twenty years.

Fully cognizant of the problems faced by institutions of higher learning during these critical times, Dr. Kirkendoll has served with integrity and leadership ability so vitally needed if this college is to move forward. Through it all, Chester A. Kirkendoll’s feet have remained firmly planted on the ground. He is a Christian gentleman of sound training, high moral character, indefatigable energy, rare managerial acumen, sensitive civic consciousness, and a valued educator.

Because he has made Lane College what it is today, because he has inspired so many, because memories of this great man will forever remain in a special corner of our hearts, with admiration and love, we dedicate the 1970 Lunite to President (Bishop) C. A. Kirkendoll.

"The life of a great man here reminds us that work can make a life sublime; and, in service leave for those who follow, footprints on the sands of time."
LIFE AMIDST THE STARS

Life is the sequence of physical and mental experiences that make up the existence of an individual. It is a complex and ever-changing phenomenon over which we never really have control. But man has never been able to accept such unrelenting terms and has, in turn, sought to find some method of relieving himself of pressure induced by such circumstances. Therefore, through observation and experimentation, man has discovered, to his delight, that the heavenly bodies are instrumental in leading him to his specific goals and in revealing many of his hidden characteristics and abilities. They are the source of mystifying knowledge which man has learned to use month after month, year after year, century after century, to produce a knowledge of what is to come. These heavenly patterns are incorporated into a group of signs producing the zodiac. Yes, the zodiac—that which transcends all that is complex, all that is simple, all that is life. It is by this, the "Zodiac Signs of Life", that man has found a governing force for his ever-changing—"Life Amidst The Stars".
ARIES, the ram, March 21-April 19—The main characteristic of the sign is headwork. Aries are keen and creative, but also impetuous and headstrong. Their governing planet is Mars, which tends to make them aggressive and ambitious. Humorous, eager, quick-witted, they have strong egos and often are natural leaders.

TAURUS, the bull, April 20, May 19—Strength is the dominant feature. They are stubborn and strong-willed. The governing planet is Venus, thus giving them a strong emotional side. The Taurus personality is practical in nature and they make good engineers, builders and contractors. They also are good at games and sports.

GEMINI, the twins, May 20-June—Simplicity, Gemini are versatile, able to grasp situations and quick to act. Mercury is the governing planet. The duality of their natures is expressed in the twin sign, and often the Gemini mind runs to contradictions. They are clever, witty, but have an easy way of evading up or excusing their shortcomings.

CANCER, the crab, June 21-July 22—Like the sign, they are clinging—to tradition, to home and family, to ideas which often seem to them conservative. The ruling planet is the moon, and thus their goals are often changeable. But, for the most part, they love the past and sometimes live in it.

LEO, the lion, July 23-August 21—Exaggeration is the dominant factor, denoting a powerful egocentricity and bossy leadership. The governing planet is the sun. Leo people are brave, generous, influential. They love the spotlight (the sun in the sky) and they usually seek out approval and affection. They are usually above pettiness but sometimes not above tyranny.

VIRGO, the virgin, Aug. 23-Sept. 22—This sign has to do with analysis and produces sharp reasoners and convincing lecturers. The governing planet is Mercury, lending its intelligence to the Virgo nature. Virgo have inquisitive minds, and have the ability to assemble facts and information into accurate conclusions. They have extraordinary memories. They hold to order and harmony.

LIBRA, the scales, Sept. 23-Oct. 22—The sign of justice, it suggests personalities who balance everything to the finest degree. The ruling planet is Venus, suggesting an inherent love of harmony and beauty. Among the Libra's chief characteristics are sympathy and understanding. They are champions of the underdog, and their motives are generally high. They are generous and respect generosity in others.

SCORPIO, the scorpion, Oct. 23-Nov. 21—The sign indicates a bold, fearless, self-confident nature—and one geared for action. The governing planet, Mars, adds a quality of power. They usually are well satisfied with themselves and their success, dominating even arrogantly. They are blunt, argumentative, sometimes ruthless.

SAGITTARIUS, the bowman, Nov. 22-Dec. 21—One of the chief characteristics is action. The Sagittarian personality is usually cheerful, happy, positive. The governing planet is Jupiter. They are genial, good-natured, sociable, much more than others. They are happiest when laughing. If faced by a setback, they simply shift their activity and overcome.

CAPRICORN, the goat, Dec. 22-Jan. 19—A scholarly sign. Capricorns are deep thinkers and philosophers. The governing planet is Saturn, which calls for self-discipline. Capricorn, often considered a pessimist, even though they may be striving for some kind of balance. Capricorns delight in any appreciation, whether in a scholarly fashion and lend toward scholarship.

AQUARIUS, the water carrier, Jan. 20-Feb. 18—The most humanitarian of the signs. The Aquarius is the great reformer of Sessions. He pours out the water freely. The governing planet is Saturn, giving the character a natural reserve to accomplish his causes—and he is apt to blame in a quiet way. Generally, Aquarians are simple, straightforward people with frank, friendly natures, that make them attractively likeable.

PILES, the fish, Feb. 19-March 20—This is the most unchangeable sign of the zodiac. The governing planet is Jupiter, providing Piscians with a generous nature. Calvinistic is one of their strong traits. They are usually deep, intellectual, friends and to causes and ideas, unflagging in their devotion.

TEACHER OF THE YEAR

In choosing the Teacher of the Year for the 1970 edition of the Lanite, one must systematically select an educator possessing many rare and unusual qualities. Qualities of love, understanding, and open-mindedness are but a few of these rare gems.

Rev. Arthur David, Dean of Chapel, Instructor of Social Science, History, and Religion here at Lane College, ultimately deserves the title of Teacher of the Year.

In this age of moon exploration and Scientific Technology, one must be able to adapt himself and his students to the bold, daring, inevitable, and the different. Rev. Arthur David does all this and even more with his infinite teaching ability.

To have been a member of his class, means that one has been exposed to a totally new experience.

Rev. Arthur David specializes in molding characters, formulating ideas and leaving a point in the minds of his students. Whenever Lanites meet Rev. David on a crowded street, on the campus, or just passing to and from classes, they can be heard saying—HE'S THE ONE!

SENIOR CLASS

LEO: THE LION

Not unsought, the Senior has reached the point of which so many others are desirous. Competition is still high and will remain so until graduation day. Averages must be maintained, though the work load fails to lighten. In spite of this, seniors have been able to make landmark accomplishments, such as our Campus Radio Station, WLCJ. This senior’s dream became a reality—living proof that patience and tireless energy reap fruitful benefits.

Seniorhood!! What a tempting time to stop and reminisce of yesterday and dream of tomorrow! We remember the days when we entered Lane College as bewildered Freshmen or transfer students; the unpacking and rearranging as we settled in with our roommates. Who among us will forget the midnight capers, the thrill of making the scene at your first Kabaret, or the time a group of students rode a sled down Lane Avenue from St. Paul to Royal Street? Greeks will have memories of “Probation Week”; non-Greeks will continue to say, “It wouldn’t have been worth it all!” Still fresh in our minds is the ringing of the “Victory Bell”, and the sight of the throng of students who greeted President Kirkendoll after he became Bishop Kirkendoll.

Not all the memories are happy ones. The Graduating Class of 1970 has known real tragedy: the fire at Hamlet Hall and the science building; the death of current and recently graduated students. These poignant realities of life will be with us always.

Some have said that Seniors are a bit arrogant, headstrong, and forceful. Others say they are warm; willing to guide, and in many cases, lead. There is a certain regal splendor about Seniors. With the courage of the Lion. Seniors have traveled many avenues, have had many experiences, have left landmark accomplishments that are to be admired. They at all times were dominant on the scene. The 1970 graduating class did its thing—SOULFULLY!!
