MISS LANE COLLEGE
PAGEANT FOR 1973-1974

Contesting for the title of Miss Lane College were eight lovely young ladies. They were chosen on poise, personality and talent. The competition also included modeling swimsuits and evening gowns.

The contestants were: Barretta Fortney, Pamela Shaw, Darlene Lanne, Jacqueline Gary, Tajuan Scott, Lynn Guice, Paulette Holden and Barbara Ross.

The five runners-up were: Jacqueline Gary, Paulette Holden, Darlene Lanne, Tajuan Scott and Barbara Ross.

The judges' final decisions were:

Second runner up — Barbara Ross.
First runner up — Tajuan Scott and Miss Lane College — Darlene Lanne.

The title, Miss Congeniality, was awarded to Paulette Holden.
My, you're cute!

I wanna take you higher...... higher...... higher......

THE NEW DIRECTION

DEAR PERSON:

You are important to me. I love you. You can talk to me and I won't tell anyone. You can trust me; I won't let you down.

I'll always be around when you want me; and I'll still be there even when you don't want me.

Don't feel silly or guilty about the things you ask. I want you to know that I'm interested in you, so feel free to ask for the things you want and desire. I will always give you the best for you.

Be my friend. I want you with me always.

I love you!
Remember that,
Jesus Christ!
The Lane College Choir is noted for its performances on television, on the radio, for conventions, churches and civic organizations. The forty member choir makes regular spring tours to one of the geographic sections of the United States. Some of which include: New York City, Trenton, N. J., Philadelphia, Washington, Detroit, St. Louis, Chicago and Milwaukee.

The choir was organized during the early days of Lane College. It boasts having had the noted composer and performer, Nathaniel Dett, as its director. The choir is now under the direction of the talented Mr. Robert Owens.
Bishop Issac Lane, Founder of the College, was born a slave in Madison County on March 3, 1834.

When he was twenty years of age, he professed a belief in the Lord Jesus Christ. At twenty-two, he was licensed to exhort the Gospel. A fine distinction was made between those who exorted and those who preached.

Reverend Lane began a ministry that was to last more than eighty years. During this period, historians cannot estimate the number of churches that he built. What stands, in addition to his matchless church expansionist program, is the college upon a hill in East Jackson that began as the C. M. E. High School. A charter was obtained from the state and the name was changed to Lane Institute.

"Why Can't We Live Together"

Like the sand that moves through an hourglass, the time is drawing near for us to depart. We must board the train that will take us to a greater horizon.

Some of us are graduating with honors, some are not, and there are some of us who are wondering, "how did we make it through?"

I leave to you, the classes to follow, a few household hints:

1. It is not what you have to work with, but it is how you apply your acquired resources.

2. Time wasted is never regained.

3. We have four tools with which to fight for liberation: "we have the Bible, bullets, money, and bullets." Please weigh each of these tools out carefully before you make a choice.

4. Wisdom without understanding is a terrible tool to use.

LANE COLLEGE

Founded, 1882, by the Colored Methodist Episcopal Church of America, as a high school, under direction of Bishop Isaac Lane, with his daughter as principal. It became Lane Institute in 1900, under Rev. S. 1. Wilson, who served from 1882 until 1929. The college received its present name in 1929.
