THE LANITE STAFF IS PROUD TO PRESENT THE
1974-75 EDITION OF THE LANITE.
They come, they go, we meet, we part,
And there the pleasure ends,
Save for the few who really care
Our joys increase, our sorrows share,
And these we call our friends.

--Edna Tratt

Not to Seem
Dear Fellow Lanites:

Colleges and universities, as well as other corporate bodies, use a seal which is affixed to all legal documents. It is customary to display a semblance of the seal on official publications. Thus, you will note that the Lane College Bulletin, Lane College Reporter, Lane Inquirer, college letterhead, and other official publications of the college all carry a semblance of the Lane College seal. Inscribed across its center are the Latin words ESSE NON VIDERI, which is the motto of the college. Freely translated it means "to be not to seem". The motto of the college is the theme of this year's yearbook.

The yearbook staff chose the motto for two reasons. First they wanted to call it to our attention, feeling that some among us had not taken note of its existence. A second and more important reason was that they felt that it should have real meaning for all who are in any way associated with Lane College.

Mottos are adopted by individuals, institutions, and various other associations of people. They are intended to represent what we are or hope to be. Thus, it should be the guiding principle for all that we do or say. Our predecessors somewhere in the past must have had deep convictions which led to the adoption of our motto. As members of the Lane College Family, we have a responsibility to continue to make our motto real. It is incumbent upon each of us -- administrator, faculty, student, and graduate -- to be and not to seem, for we are Lane College today.

To be and not to seem means being real, genuine, and true. It means that we cannot pretend to be one thing when in reality we are entirely something else. It means that as administrators we must be fair and just, as teachers we must be dedicated and compassionate, as students we must give learning the highest priority, as graduates it means being loyal and supportive of the college.

With warmest regards and best wishes to all, I am

Very truly yours,

Herman Stone, Jr.
President

The Gussie Adams' Era

Since 1922 Lane College has experienced the Gussie Adams' Era. Mrs. Adams first came to Lane as a student in 1922. Then in 1925 she became an assistant in the Treasurer's Office. Later she was dormitory director, part-time teacher, and finally college treasurer. She has been a first-hand participant in the institution and has been friend and co-worker to countless students and six presidents.

Over the past fifty-three (53) years, Mrs. Adams has touched the lives of many people. She has always been dedicated to the cause of Lane College, which is clearly exemplified by her never tiring efforts to support the institution in any way that is within her power.

After years of service that equal to half a century plus some, Mrs. Adams says that she is not "really" going to retire. "If possible, I plan to do more for the Church and community than ever. And, of course, the college will still be on my front page."

Dr. C. D. Newburn... for: Thirteen years of dedicated service to Lane College. Dr. Newburn, who currently holds the position as Professor of Sociology and Social Welfare, is retiring at the close of the 1974-1975 school year.
These twelve seniors have been chosen as Lane College's 1974-75 Who's Who Among American College Seniors. Truly, they are worthy of this honor, which is one of the highest that a diversity of talents, which helped them win this award.

With interests ranging from education to medicine, these twelve seniors will go to lead others. They are to be congratulated for a job well done during their years at Lane.

Yes, they are just a few Lealtos that exemplify the qualities that will produce tomorrow's leaders. It is evident by their words and actions that they hold our school motto: "TO BE, NOT TO SEEM"

We Didn't Forget You!
THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

TO THE 1975 COLLEGE GRADUATES:

President Eisenhower once said that education is not only the means for earning a living, but for enriching life. His words are especially appropriate for those who complete college. Your generation’s candor, sensitivity and desire for creative involvement are heartening signs that you will be doing more than just earning a living.

You are graduating in a particularly difficult year. You will be faced with many uncertainties. But the opportunities that await you are even greater than the challenges. It will indeed be within your grasp to enlarge and enrich life in our society. As you make the decisions that will shape your course and that of your country, I hope you will keep in mind that one person CAN make a difference.

Times have changed greatly since I went to college. But looking back on those days in the context of today’s world, I know that the same optimism and hope I shared with my classmates is very much alive in you today. I want you to know how much I admire your enthusiasm and determination, and how convinced I am that you WILL make a difference for America.

I wish each of you the satisfaction that comes from doing your best at something you believe in.
