We didn’t forget you . . .

We pause to bid farewell to those faculty and staff members who are leaving Lane College this year. The retirees are: Mrs. Tullah Blackwell-Dormitory Directress for Smith Hall; Mrs. Lora Smith-Dormitory Directress for Johnson Hall; Dr. Earl Sasser-Professor of English; Dr. John Cottin-Professor of Modern Foreign Languages, and Mr. T.R. White-Instructor of Education.

In some way these people have touched the lives of present Laniites and some of the past. They will be missed by all. Although they will be leaving Lane, they will not be forgotten.

Farewell!!!

Some people lead too far ahead,
High-minded, unlead;
Yet, ages after they are dead,
We tread the paths they made.

Some people lead too far behind,
Never seen to keep the track,
Yet they bring on the dead and blind,
Who else would hold us back.

And some seem not to be at all,
Slow moving on the way,
Yet help the weary feet and small
Of those who else would stray.

People, O people of the race!
Your work is long and wide;
We need your help in every place—
Before, behind, beside.

... Seriousness??

Moments of ...
A Freshman Is . . .

Someone who tries to imitate the upper . . . one who takes all his cuts the two weeks before exams . . . one who found out about Jackson rain the hard way . . . someone who stood in line three hours in the Administration Building and then found out that registration was in the S.U.B.!

A Sophomore Is . . .

Someone who environs freshmen hours . . . one who . . . overrates Sophomore Privileges . . . one who is overwhelmed by Junior Popularity . . . someone who is underwhelmed by graduation!

A Junior Is . . .

Someone who learns and achieves with vigor and grace . . . one who keeps the Sophomore in his place . . . one who waits for that special day to arrive . . . someone whose next step is the final step!

Changes

The place is changing. You can hardly remember the tennis courts that were once here where JFLHB now stands. In a few years we won't know the place. But classes continue and if you're lucky, you'll graduate in June!

A Senior Is . . .

Someone who competes with all the classes below . . . one who is not so smart but did enough to get by . . . one who on graduation day will have a bill? . . . someone who will be back next year to say he forgot your name!

The Trip

Practice, classes, grades. We all tried to make it one way or another, didn't we? You felt the overpowering ego when you made it, but the sickening emptiness of defeat lasted a little longer. But we haven't given up!

Spring Fever

Warm sunshine, times to smell the cut "grass", plus flowers blooming, minus classes, equal SPRING!

Home

It's beside a railroad this side of Play Boys! Oh, you've never heard of it? Why didn't you say Lane in the first place instead of Dragon Country? By any name, it's the same place. It's home to us!
Mrs. Edna M. Cawthorn serves as Associate Professor of Education at Lane College. She received her B.S. degree from Tennessee State College and her M.S. from the University of Wisconsin at Madison. Mrs. Cawthorn is a member of Alpha Kappa Alphakapic Society, Inc.

The Teacher of the Year is chosen every year by the members of the Senior class. This year's choice was a unanimous vote.
"My four years at Lane College have been rewarding and enlightening as taken in context with preparing me for the immensely larger school of life. It is with some sorrow I leave my beloved institution—my Lane College Family. But she WILL be remembered. We are about the business of growing and maturing into a major Black College, thus, our Homecoming theme brings a hint of things to come—Lane College Family: Standing on the Verge of Getting It On. With help and cooperation we will be on the other side, and when I return the theme should be: The Lane College Family Has Gotten It On."

Behold, I am the society of ultimate Black attainment.
My Black identity has withstood centuries of turmoil,
but my flame of Black truth has never flickered.
I am the peerless Black philosopher, Plato;
I am Martin Luther King, W.E.B. DuBois, Shirley Chisholm, Coretta King;
I am Black Greekdom.
My roots exemplify Black strength and unity;
My body ripples with Black Dignity;
My limbs offer Black comfort;
My heart exudes Black love;
My hands toil to build a Black utopia.
I am the chariot for Black knowledge;
I am the torch of Black virtue;

I am \( \text{ΑΚΑ} \) and \( \text{ΑΦΑ} \)
I am \( \text{ΔΣΘ} \) and \( \text{ΩΨΦ} \)
I am \( \text{ΖΦΒ} \) and \( \text{ΦΒΣ} \)

Brief History

Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority was founded January 15, 1908, at Howard University, by Ethel Hedgeman Key, who initiated the movement of Greek-letter sororities among Black women in America.

Alpha Kappa Alpha has more than 400 chapters located in most of the States comprising the United States, the District of Columbia, West Africa, and the Bahamas. Since 1908, Alpha Kappa Alpha has initiated more than 75,000 women of varying races and creeds.

Through the years Alpha Kappa Alpha's program has as its chief aim "service to all mankind."
Delta Sigma Theta Sorority was founded at Howard University in Washington, D.C. on January 13, 1913. The Sorority has evolved in the years of its existence a program of concern, not only for its own membership, but also for the general welfare of all. With a membership of more than 75,000 women, Delta Sigma Theta has a vital interest in the welfare of minority groups and in human rights.

The high standards and ideals set by the founders have attracted women whose individual and collective contributions to society have proved the importance of Delta, not only as an organization for the mutual devotion and inspiration of its members, but for its importance in public service through which much of society is benefited.

Brief History
Zeta Phi Beta Sorority was organized at Howard University on January 16, 1920. It was the first Greek-letter sorority organized in Africa.
Zeta is known for its closeness and outstanding sisterly love. Zeta Phi Beta Sorority strives toward finer womanhood, character, and services.
Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority was founded November 12, 1922, by Mrs. Mary Lou Gardner and six other school teachers. The sorority became an incorporated National Collegiate Sorority on December 30, 1929, when a charter was granted to Alpha Chapter at Butler University, Indianapolis, Indiana.

During the first three years of its existence, the sorority confined its activities to organizing.

The growth of the Sorority in its 53 years has been steady. It has expanded to 149 chapters in thirty-one states, the District of Columbia, Liberia, and West Africa.

Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority was the first Greek-letter Sorority on the Lane College campus.
"The Fraternity"

I speak of . . .
I speak of a Fraternity . . .
I speak of a Fraternity of Brotherhood
I speak of a Fraternity whose initiation is a lifetime of pain, poverty, and persecution.
I speak of a Fraternity whose pledging period is eternity,
A Fraternity dedicated to liberation,
A Fraternity of proud brothers and beautiful sisters.
I speak of a Fraternity of creators, builders, and leaders,
A Fraternity of love, unity, and learning.
I speak of a Fraternity whose "American" chapter numbers over 22 million.
I speak of the Fraternity of Black Brotherhood.

A Page In My Diary

Yesterday I stood beneath your window,
And played you a love song of my heart.
But you never looked down,
Or gave any sign that you even noticed I was there.
So I wrote notes on slips of paper,
And magically turned them into tiny DC 10's,
Sailed them through your window.
But although my tiny airborne invitations for love were signed R. S. V. P.,
You never flew one back.
So I decided that perhaps I had bombarded you enough.
Maybe today I will just sit on your lawn
amidst your clover blossoms,
And wait for you to come out.
In pondering the words you might say
as we meet,
I realize that if you told me today that
you didn't love me,
I would simply wait until tomorrow.

The Wonderful Thoughts of You

Not a day or even a moment passes,
Without the thought of you.
All the magnificent charms that create you,
In my working and slumbering dreams,
I always think about you.
For you,
I will be as a grain of sand hopelessly lost
in a desert of misfortune.
Through you,
I have found the strength and will to survive.
Never before have I felt the flames of love so intense.
For these and a thousand additional reasons,
I must dedicate the very essence of my being,
To you,
To return face to face into the sanctuary of your love,
And the willing once again into your heart.
