If our mothers could only see us now.

Kepel shows Pam that he’s right and she’s wrong.

Gently, James and Ted show they have true brotherhood.

You all aren’t going to worry me.

What’s taking so long to answer the question? It’s just a game.

Come on Bama, we can do it!

Now if this isn’t good I’m sorry.
Charlotte smiles for the camera anxiously while Tevin just chills remembering the old days with last year's yearbook.

Kyna gladly poses for the picture but may be her last one in her college days.

Aric stands by the sign that he thinks marks distinction in a man.

Butch and Clarett stroll on their way to class to give us a touch of sunshine.

FRESHMAN ORIENTATION LEADERS

Orientation is coordinated by the Student Orientation Leaders (SOLs). The staff counselors coordinate the advertisement through previous SOLs and Peer Educators. Students sign-up and are interviewed by SOLs who participated in the previous year’s program. Students selected must have a 2.5 g.p.a. on a 4 point scale. The names of prospective SOLs are presented to the Dean of Student Affairs before the selection process is completed. Students selected are notified in the summer. Orientation Leaders purpose is to help introduce to the new and transfer students the services and organizations that the College offers.

As the Freshmen Orientation Leaders for the 1990-91 freshmen class bring the week of helping the new students to adjust to their new life, comes to an end as they pose for a group picture.

Regina Young gives her welcome speech to the new freshmen while Dean David shares attentively.

As you can see the freshmen Leaders and the freshmen hit it off really well from the start.

Sherry sits in front of the gym waiting very patiently to begin the next activity on the agenda.
New Lanites Get Into The Swing Of Things.

Each semester the Human Development Center sponsors an orientation for the freshmen and the new students. These students were assisted by Student Orientation Leaders, upperclassman students at the college. The Human Development Center counselors had many activities that helped the students begin to adjust to the college life.

Some of the activities included visits to different auxiliaries of the college, such as the library and the center for Academic Skills and Development and many more. During the visits the faculty and staff talked to the students about what their auxiliary had to offer. The freshmen also had time to enjoy some fun with the recreational activities planned for them. Some of the recreational activities included chatting with the leaders, skating, swimming and even dancing.
MATRICULATION

Lane College: “Can’t Touch This” — “Can’t Touch This” was the theme of President Dr. Alex A. Chambers’ address during the Opening Convocation and Matriculation services held in the J.F. Lane Health and Physical Education Center Wednesday, September 12.

One hundred and fifty-two freshmen and transfer students were inducted into the Lane College family. Regina Young, S.G.A. President, and Natasha Brown, Miss Lane College, greeted the students with welcoming words.

The theme, quoted from popular rapper LL Cool J, was aimed at encouraging students, faculty, and staff to achieve excellence in everything they do.

President Chambers stood before the Freshman Class with a caring and dynamic speech.

Every incoming student is required to sign the official roll. It is from here that the journey begins.

As the ceremony comes to an end, the President introduced himself to each and every student.

CONVOCATION

Coach Lee Triplett and colleagues were present for the introduction of the Class of 1994 to the Lane College family.

As the Lane College Concert Choir rendered a lovely selection, it had hopes of encouraging new members to come.

"Faculty until you get that $100,000 job, your first priority is to be the best that you can be. Love Lane or leave it," said Chambers.

He urged the faculty to raise their expectations of the students. "As Benjamin E. Mays said, "Failure is not the sin, but low aim it." He stated that the students should also be all that they can be so they will develop an attitude that says, "Can't Touch This!"

By Grace Miller

The Freshman Class listens to the President’s speech very attentively.
FRESHMEN

The incoming freshmen wait anxiously to enter the skating rink so they can roll until they drop. This was one of many events that the freshmen participated in during orientation.

EVENTS

As the time came for a snack, the watermelon furnished at the watermelon cut proved to be very refreshing.

SKATING/SWIMMING

A small group of the freshman pose for the picture with the "cool, just chillin" look.

WATERMELON CUT/TALENT SHOW

Freshman Frank Bynum expresses himself through dancing. Frank and other freshman class members showed the crowd some talents that were out of sight.
