ORIENTATION '89

Before the opening of fall semester classes, all new students report for a program designed to help them in the transition to Lane College. Activities included meetings with College administrators and faculty, testing for guidance and placement services, formal registration, and familiarization with College policies and standards. Along with a week filled with fun activities, our student center judges found it very difficult to resist from laughing.

The new students and their families are enjoying a nice picnic.

The orientation leaders take a few moments of practice time to prepare their rap.

Fair Lane, we love thee, love thee well ...

Dunk, anyone?
MATRICULATION
CONVOCATION

Lane College held its second Matriculation Convocation September 7 in the J.P. Lane Building. Each freshman and all new students were personally greeted by the President, Dr. Alex A. Chambers. The faculty and staff were also part of the welcoming committee as they assisted the students to the stage. Dr. Alex A. Chambers presided as speaker for the ceremony as he encouraged and embarked upon each new student to make Lane College their home away from home. This great institution of higher learning is "small enough to know you, large enough to serve you."

President Chambers greeted Angela Blackshear with a smile.

The Lane College faculty and staff including Coach McCal, Coach Tipsett, and Mr. Moore were dressed for the occasion.

Jewel Smith, Latisha Smits, among others, new students listened intently for their names to be called to sign the 1989-90 college register.

Pamela Confer could not wait to shake the President's hand.

Two of Lane's most prominent students S.G.A. President, Tonya Stewart and Miss Lane College, Sharae Dell were at the ceremony giving words of inspiration.

Dean Arthur David presented to some and introduced to others the speaker, our own President Chambers.

The vioin of the choir conducted Dr. William Garcia guided the voices of the Lane College choir as they made a joyful noise unto the Lord.
SHOWCASING THEIR TALENTS

Lene College seems to draw talent from near and far. These students were no exception. This freshman class is a talented class as well.

FUN ON WHEELS

Although the manager was late opening the door, these students enjoyed a night at Magic Wheels Skating Rink. The students fell many times, but they laughed on the way up.

FUN IN THE WATER

As always these students love to have water fights and enjoy the cool feeling of the water.

GETTING CLOSER

As time went on, our students began to bond together closer and closer.

HUMAN DEVELOPMENT PRESENTS:

Graduate and Professional School Day was held by the Human Development Center on November 9, 1989 in the Student Union Building. Students flocked together to receive information from various colleges and universities. The universities came out in full effect ranging from Memphis State to Iowa State.

Kim is told of how costs could be reduced in graduate school.

Knowledge awaits our students.

Dwight was fascinated by interesting facts.
